Draft Terms of Reference
Special Site 2 Policies
Mineola District

Background

The area referred to as Special Site 2 in the Mineola District policies, the policies for which are attached, was intended to permit the conversion of the existing dwellings to low intensity, low traffic generating professional offices. The main principle was that the use must have a residential appearance and must have no detrimental impact on the residential character of the area. At the time these policies were developed in 1985, the dwellings fronting onto Hurontario Street were becoming less desirable for residential use due to the im pact of traffic on Hurontario Street. Consequently, an alternative use was desirable as long as the residential character of the area could be maintained

Recently, concerns have been expressed that some office uses, such as medical offices and clinics, may generate too much traffic and require extensive paving to accommodate the required parking, with an attendant loss of landscaping and the residential streetscape. Other concerns have been expressed that the term “office” could be interpreted to permit uses more in the nature of a personal service, even though these uses are not permitted by the Special Site 2 Policies,.

Purpose

The purpose of this study is to carry out a scoped review of the existing Special Site 2 Policies with specific regard to the appropriateness of specific offices and non residential uses, and their related development policies such as the location and amount of parking, access to corner lots, landscaping and setbacks.

Work Program

The work program will include:

- An overview of the history of the Special Site 2 Policies and their evolution in the Official Plan;
- Identification of other policies in Mississauga Plan relevant to the site;
- An analysis of existing development in the context of the current policy compared to the original objectives for this area.;
- Identification of redevelopment potential for additional office uses;
- Identification of development pressures through a review of current development applications ;
- Recommended amendments to the existing policies.

Deliverables

The study will be completed in the fall to enable Planning and Development Committee to consider a recommendation to hold a statutory public meeting, which will initiate the formal public review process.

Stakeholder Input

In addition to the formal public review process, the land owners and Credit Reserve Association will be invited to a focus group meeting in summer to provide their input to the study.

Staff Resources

The study will be led by Policy Division staff, with design assistance from Development and Design Division staff.
